Victim Of Hit And Run Driver Sought By Motor Squad

POLICE HOLD TWO PERSONS IN BASTILE

One Charged with Driving An Automobile Under Influence of Liquor
WOMAN IS RUN DOWN
Knocked Into Ditch by Car And Then Disappears When Help Is Sought

ONE MAN is in the Orange county jail, charged with driving an automobile while under the influence of liquor and another is being held for investigation, following the alleged running down of a woman pedestrian just outside the city limits, on East First street at 10:30 o'clock last night.

The woman, who was reported struck by the machine, has disappeared and has not made an official report of the incident, it was declared.

Santa Ana police were called to the scene of the alleged accident and turned the prisoners, E. J. Deviney, 33, oil worker, Whittier, and Lee Harkness, 32, Whittier, over to State Officers Adams and Yoder, who brought them to jail.

According to Adams, the woman was struck by the machine, reported to have been driven by Deviney. She was knocked over into the gutter at the side of the road. Another machine, directly behind the Deviney car is reported to have stopped and asked the woman if she was struck by the car and she reported that she was. The driver of the machine, whose name is being withheld by authorities, then told the woman to wait and he would overtake the Deviney car, which he reported, had sped on.

Deviney and Harkness were stopped several blocks away and the motorist returned them to the scene of the accident, but the woman had disappeared.

Officers were waiting today for the woman to make a report to them of the accident, at the same time holding up possible charges of failure to stop and render aid against Deviney.

REPLY IS MADE TO DEMOCRATIC TARIFF ATTACK

HOOPER RETURNS TO CAPITOL Well Pleased With His Reception in Boston

BY WILLIAM K. HUTCHINSON (U.S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 16.—Herbert Hoover, Republican presidential candidate, arrived in Washington from Boston at 11 o'clock today. He went immediately to his headquarters to work on the speech he will deliver in New York next Monday.

The Republican nominee visited 14 cities and towns, made eight speeches, faced 500,000 people, and spoke to 60,000 voters in person and millions over the radio. He found the most enthusiastic audiences that have greeted him anywhere in the campaign and he made the most of his opportunity to elevate the tariff as a pressing national issue.

The climax of Hoover's visit to Massachusetts was his speech in the arena at Boston. He took sharp issue with his Democratic rival, Governor Alfred E. Smith, on the tariff issue, declaring he favored retaining the tariff-making powers in the hands of congress and the president. Smith has advocated turning this power over to a federal commission and Hoover ridiculed this proposal.

The Republican nominee discussed local and national business conditions at some length and declared tariff protection, expansion of foreign markets and governmental economy—all to be furnished by the Republican party—would provide New England, as well as the rest of America, with continued prosperity. He predicted a bright future for the textile industries, declaring better times were ahead and that the industry had "turned the corner" to prosperity.

There were several new notes in the speech. Hoover came out strongly for adequate protection of Americans abroad, endorsed President Coolidge's policy in Nicaragua by inference, demanded full payment of war debts, endorsed private loans to European nations and pledged government aid in the development of new foreign markets.

After paying a tribute to the industrialism of New England, Hoover first told of the growth of American foreign trade under the FRESNO, Oct. 16.—(UP)—With low prices still prevailing in eastern markets and with a disposition on the part of shippers to avoid risk of further losses, grape shipments from the San Joaquin valley have greatly slowed down, it was indicated here today.

The quality of grapes now available was steadily declining and but few houses were operating. Little hope was entertained of a revival in demand and shipments are expected to fall off sharply from the present until the end of the season.

HOLD MEETING IN ANAHEIM TO DISCUSS ROADS

Committees from Santa Ana And Mother Colony Will Work With County

THE ROAD committee of the Santa Ana and Anaheim chambers of commerce met tonight at Anaheim to consider plans by which the two committees may co-operate with the board of supervisors in procuring rights of way for widening of the state highway between Santa Ana and Anaheim.

It is believed co-operation of the committees will hasten starting of the improvement, as considerable personal work will be necessary to acquire deeds to needed property.

The programmed improvement on the thoroughfare also includes paving of the highway.

GOV. SMITH TO SPEAK TONIGHT IN MISSOURI

Sedalia Stages Big Parade and Bourbon Nominee in Several Conferences

Gov. Al Smith's address tonight in Sedalia, Mo., will be broadcast over Station KFI at 6 o'clock, Santa Ana time.

By PAUL R. MALLON United Press Staff Correspondent

SEDALIA, Mo., Oct. 16.—(UP)—Gov. Alfred E. Smith waved his friendly brown derby today to central Missouri, the dry agriculture community which holds the balance of political power in this doubtful border state.

A morning parade, an afternoon of conferences in an historical hotel and a night speech in live stock pavilion at the state fair grounds were on the Governor's schedule. The five mile parade will introduce the candidate from the sidewalks of New York to the farmers and citizens of the "show me" state. The conferences which will be attended by Charles M. Hay, democratic candidate for senator and county chairman, will organize the final effort of the campaign here. The night speech to be broadcast at 8 p. m. Central time, over a national radio hookup will set forth Smith's views about what he calls "The Myth of Republican prosperity."

This little city of 27,000 inhabitants is eagerly planning accommodations for 50,000 to 100,000 visitors during the Governor's 36-hour stay. Special trains are arriving at the two depots every few minutes from Kansas City, St. Louis, Fayette, Moberly, St. Joseph, Lake City, Carthage and Parsons, Kan. The streets are rapidly filling with this influx. Sandwich stands and pop vendors are crying their wares. Brown derbies are seen everywhere and the entire scene has an atmosphere of a big political picnic.

Smith arrived on his special train from St. Louis shortly after 8 p. m. yesterday and was paraded to his hotel by marchers with torchlight flares. The crowd hung around outside his hotel shouting for him and he was forced several times to come out on the old style balcony upon which faces his second floor suite.

"You tell 'em, Al; we're all for you Al and we'll show 'em on Election day," were shouted from the crowd.

Smith was sent here by his

Meet Tonight Will Be Held At Poly High

Farm Bureau Head Declares Los Angeles Soon Control All Ballots

IN FIVE YEARS the city of Los Angeles will be able to control the state of California. It will have 54 per cent of the population of the state, a majority in the assembly, and voting power sufficient to select its own choice for governor.

This outline of the political situation was given today by Norman M. Blaney, secretary of the Orange County Farm Bureau, on the eve of a county-wide rally at the Santa Ana high school auditorium, at which the movement for reapportionment of the state senatorial districts will be explained. J. J. Deuel, of the law and utility department of the State Farm Bureau federation, will be the main speaker. The affair will start at 7:30 p. m.

Blaney stated today that, despite its present powerful situation, despite the dominating position it soon will achieve, the city of Los Angeles also wishes to control the senate through its preponderance of population.

"Apparently leaders in that city are not satisfied with the prospect of controlling the assembly and electing the governor. They want the senate too and are resisting the movement under way today which would place control of the senate in the rural districts.

"The government of the state should be representative of the state as a whole and I believe the voters will resist any attempt of one city to control the destinies of 55 counties."

Los Angeles leaders, opposed to the reapportionment measure which will be voted on at the November election, and which provides for giving not more than one senator to each county, forget to mention in their arguments that the metropolitan regions will control the assembly entirely and exercise the greatest force in electing the governor, Blaney said.

"They talk of the reapportionment measure as a move to disfranchise city voters. They hold out the bogey of minority government, of the country controlling the city.

"They declare that the reapportionment measure is based on an un-American principle and is against our constitutional rights of equality.

"All this is just a smoke screen.

KEEP SIRENS BUSY ELECTION DAY, PLEASE

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 16.—(UP)—Los Angeles residents will not have a chance to forget that November 6 is election day if the plan advanced by Homer B. Wright, general chairman of the non-partisan Get Out the Vote league goes into effect.

TERROR OF DEATH SPREADING OVER CHINATOWNS OF NATION AS TONG WAR BREAKS AFRESH

By JERRY KUISENBERRY United Press Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK, Oct. 16.—(UP)—The Hip Sings and the On Leongs are at war again, and today, after three years of peace, the terror of death spread once more through the Chinatowns of half a dozen American cities.

HIGH OFFICERS OF KLAN SUED; ASK RECEIVER

ATLANTA, Ga., Sept. 16.—(UP)—A suit was on file in Federal court today charging Imperial Wizard Hiram W. Evans and other high officials of the Ku Klux Klan, with diverting funds of the headed order for a campaign of "libel and slander" against Governor Alfred E. Smith.

The petition, filed for C. T. Rice, a member of the order asks a receiver for the Klan on the claim it has become insolvent as a result of diverted funds.

Federal Judge Samuel H. Sibley ordered the defendants to appear before him October 27 to show cause why an injunction should not be issued.

The suit was brought on the grounds that Georgia state law holds it illegal for a corporation, or its officers to use corporate funds for political purposes in elections in this state.

In one paragraph of the petition, Rice alleges "the said corporation unlawfully circulates libel and slander in an effort to prescribe a religious test as a qualification for holding office in the United States in violation of the constitution of the United States."

Despite the fact that $100,000.00 has been collected from members of the Klan, the organization, it is alleged is insolvent, although the petition does not charge any definite amount was converted for political purposes.

The last tong war between the Hip Sings and the On Leongs continued from the early autumn of 1924 to October, 1925. In the first three months more than 50 Chinese were murdered by rival tongmen. The Chinese merchants association, and even the Chinese legation at Washington made repeated efforts to effect a truce, but to no avail.

Toward the last, however, government officials stepped in. They rounded up 206 Chinese within a single week and deported 160 of them. Hostilities soon died and Chinatown became quieted.

Go down into Chinatown and seek the real facts at the bottom of any tong war, and you'll learn little more than the orientals have allowed you to know in past years. If he chooses to speak at all on the subject, the Chinese generally will tell you that a tong war is fought over the principle of honor. An eminent Hip Sing insults an On Leong dignitary, or vice versa, and the injured tongmen fly at their rivals with hatchets, long knives and revolvers until they feel their honor has been avenged.

CHAS. EVANS HUGHES STUMPS FOR HOOVER

The child found the poison on the floor, while playing, and put it in her mouth.

First aid treatment was given in the hospital and the child recovered almost immediately, it was said.

Thunderous Applause After Crew Upon Train Leave of Naval Hangar

RECONDITION BIG JOB

Torn Fabric on Under Part Of Airship Will Be Repaired Before Week End

LAKEHURST, N. J., Oct. 16.—(INS)—Hundreds of curious townsfolk gathered at the railroad station here to cheer the Hugo Eckener and the crew of the Graf Zeppelin as they embarked at 1:30 o'clock this afternoon with members of Mayor James J. Walker's reception committee for New York City. "We want Eckener and the crew to stay here and his men had boarded the train.

A cigar dropping from his lips and his face wreathed in a joyful smile, the Graf Zeppelin's commander opened the window, acknowledged the "hoos" of the crowd and their congratulations with a wave of the hand.

The train then started for New York amidst thunderous applause by the crowd, the waving of kerchiefs and the throwing of hand-kisses by many a worshipping maiden. Accompanying the crew of the Graf Zeppelin are fifteen officers of the naval air station, two officers of the navy bureau of aeronautics and more than 100 newspaper correspondents and cameramen.

While New York will pay tribute to the stalwart air pioneers across the sea, civilian employees of the naval air station will condition their ship to make it again thoroughly airworthy. Repair work on the damaged hull port horizontal was started shortly before noon. At 1 o'clock a half dozen workmen were posted atop the fin, busily engaged in ripping off the torn fabric.

The German officers and crew had lunch at the officers' mess. Some of them signed postal cards showing pictures of the Zeppelin. They chatted among themselves for the most part and declined to be interviewed. Some of them posed willingly enough for photographs.

Officials representing the city of New York conferred with officers at the Lakehurst station regarding details of the plans for reception.

Seven German officers, including Dr. Eckener, and eight of the crew planned to make the trip. They will be accompanied by Karl Arnstein, president of the Goodyear-Zeppelin company of Akron, Ohio, and Harry Vesperling, American representative of the Zeppelin works at Friedrichshafen.

Fifteen or more Lakehurst officers were to accompany them, including Commander Charles H. Rosendahl of the Los Angeles, Captain C. E. Jackson, commandant of the station, and Commander M. R. Pierce, executive officer.

The special train leaving Lakehurst at 1 o'clock was expected to arrive in Jersey City shortly after 3 o'clock. The visiting Germans were to be taken aboard the steamer Macomb for New York, where at 4 p. m. they will officially be welcomed at city hall.

Seal Beach Opposes Waste Pipe Line Through County

SUPERVISORS ARE UNABLE TO REACH DECISION

BULLETIN

Indication that the board of supervisors will grant a franchise to the Santa Fe Waste Water Disposal company for a pipe line across Orange county to Seal Beach was seen today when the body announced that District Attorney Z. B. West Jr. would be requested to draw up the document. It will be presented at the next board meeting and the franchise will be advertised for sale following that session. Chairman William Schumacher told representatives of the company that the board will retain authority over the franchise at all times and that if its provisions are violated it will be revoked.

Opposition to the granting of a pipe line franchise through Orange county to the ocean for the benefit of the Santa Fe Springs Waste Water Disposal company took on renewed vigor today when the matter was argued at length before the board of supervisors.

A. P. Nelson, Santa Ana attorney, appeared to represent Seal Beach property owners who object to the dumping of waste water into the ocean there. Nelson contended that the pipe line is not necessary and that the proposed franchise is not soundly acceptable. He reiterated the objection to refuse from Los Angeles county being dumped in Orange county.

Representing the disposal company, H. C. Perry, vice president and chairman of its legal committee, told the board that the outlet of the proposed pipe line is in an all field which now sends its waste water to the ocean at the same point. He claimed that the oil content of the water which would go to the ocean from Santa Fe Springs is reduced to a point five times lower than government specifications require.

Perry produced three flasks containing samples of the water to indicate its condition of purity. He heard had not acted on the request for a franchise at noon today.

FINGERPRINTS' PROOF UPHELD BY GUILTY PLEA

Robert Guard, Huntington Beach, charged with possession of liquor, pleaded a test case which Herman Zabel, fingerprint expert, had arranged in justice court there, this morning, when, at the last minute, he pleaded guilty to the charge. Zabel did not get a chance to prove that even bootleggers can be caught through the famous fingerprint system.

Huntington Beach police raided an empty house several weeks ago and found a five-gallon jug of whiskey. No one was near the house at the time.

At the time Guard was out on bail on a charge of driving an automobile while under the influence of liquor. He was suspected of being the owner of the whiskey and was arrested on suspicion.

According to law, persons arrested on felony charges must have their pictures taken and their fingerprints made. Guard, arrested on a felony charge, that of driving while intoxicated, was brought to the county jail here and his prints made. Zabel said they were the same as those found on the bottle when officers raided the empty house.

This morning Zabel went to Huntington Beach, confident that conviction would be secured. And then Guard pleaded guilty.

City voters will elect senators just as rural voters will, if the measure passes. Each vote in the city will count for less proportionately in electing a senator from that county. Suppose it does. The same thing is true of city votes in the selection of United States senators. Each state, large or small, has but two senators, has had them since the nation was founded, and no one is talking about disfranchisement in that case. No one is calling the United States senate un-American in principle. The city of Los Angeles has lost none of its constitutional rights in the national government.

"In fact this principle is one of the fundamental ones in American government. That's why we have two houses of congress—so that the large states can't dominate the smaller ones. That's why the small counties of California now seek control of the senate—so that the cities cannot dictate to the rural areas. It simply is an application of a well tried principle on which the American government is based.

"It is alleged that the farm regions, through control of the senate, would be able to veto every bill brought up by the cities, if the reapportionment measure is passed. That is true and I can see nothing un-American in it. It certainly is less un-American than any situation, whereby the cities would absolutely control both houses. And it cannot be proven that the rural regions would bring about a veto of any constructive measure introduced by the cities, providing it was designed to aid the state as a whole.

"It also is alleged that 30 per cent of the industry of the state would be able to dictate to the remaining approximately 70 per cent. I deny the truth of this statement. The senate alone does not run the state government. The assembly and governor certainly have the balance of power. And the cities will continue to elect them.

"Furthermore, the Los Angeles leaders have neglected to mention the fact that, while the farm controlled senate could veto assembly bills, the city controlled assembly and governor could veto senate bills.

"It is worth noting, in conclusion, that the city of Los Angeles is alone in its opposition to the reapportionment proposal. San Francisco and the metropolitan area in the Bay region look with favor on the measure. Also, it is a fact that the rural communities have twice the investment and are assessed on three times the property value, so it seems fairly American that they should have at least a fair share in the government."

"Our total volume of exports translates itself into employment of 2,400,000 families," he explained. Hoover used these figures to prove that foreign nations can pay their debts to us. He further cited the expenditure of two billion dollars annually abroad by Americans for other purposes. He said American tourists alone spend $770,000,000 a year abroad while immigrants send $240,000,000 home each year.

A WORD OF COMFORT
Every great man in the scientific world has been a man of faith; all have sought wisdom in the spiritual realm.
You can no more hope to find a solution of your problems and perplexities through material means than they did. Every effort to dull your heartache or to divert your attention through acquiring things or through drowning your sorrow in evanescent pleasure will fail; the ache comes back.
Face your problem. Take it to God. Ask for courage and strength and they will come.

WILL SPEAK AT ANAHEIM MEET FRIDAY NIGHT

Orange county Republicans have arranged for the most important rally of the campaign to be held Friday night, in the Elks clubhouse, Anaheim, when Senator Samuel Shorridge will deliver an address on political issues. The meeting is to be preceded by a 6:30 dinner and reservations for this part of the meeting should be made early.

The meeting is to be under the auspices of the Republican central committee of the third supervisorial district of Orange county and the members of the Women's Anaheim Republican Study club.

Arrange Radio Talks
The county central committee has arranged to broadcast five-minute speeches over KWTG, from 5:55 to 6 each day, by Republican speakers during the remainder of the campaign.

Tickets for the Anaheim dinner and meeting may be obtained at the Hoover headquarters in Santa Ana, at 207 West Fourth street, or from Frank Tausch, Mrs. Nellie Terry, Mrs. E. E. Smith and Mrs. H. N. White, Anaheim; the Republican headquarters, 153 South Los Angeles street, Anaheim; Dr. J. D. Thomas, Olive, and Irwin Brothers, Fullerton.

Intensified activity in the Republican campaign for funds in Orange county got under way today in each supervisorial district following a meeting of the county central committee at G. O. P. headquarters here last night.

90 Per Cent Pledged
It was reported that Southern California, with a quota of $300,000, already has pledged 90 per cent of that amount. Quotas will be set for each district in Orange county, based on the number of voters in each section, and the central committeemen in each district will be in charge of the contributions campaign.

A number of Republican women were present at last night's meeting, at which T. B. Talbert, of Huntington Beach, chairman of the central committee, presided. The funds collected here will be used for furthering the campaign in doubtful eastern states, Talbert said.

Republican headquarters has swung into full activity and literature, posters and similar campaign material are being distributed.

OLYMPIC HERO RETURNS HOME FROM EUROPE

Arriving at his home in Orange yesterday, James Kenneth Workman, member of the world's champion University of California crew, today was recalling to his friends the experiences of a 1000 mile bicycle trip through Europe.

Workman, who is the son of Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Workman, 828 North Batavia street, Orange, went to Europe as a member of the Bear crew and took part in the eight oar shell races at the Olympic games, in Amsterdam. The crew is said to have made a new world's record at Amsterdam and at Poughkeepsie, N. Y.

Following the victory in Holland, Workman, with two companions, decided to see Europe on bicycles, he recalled today. And so, with Bill Dally, of Elmira, and Hugh Caldwell, of Piedmont, Workman set out. Both his companions were members of the crew.

Bicycle traffic in Europe is much thicker than in the United States, Workman said today, pointing out that the roads were often crowded with tourists who were seeing the country by the pedal route.

Following a few months of work here, Workman expects to return to the University of California at Berkeley, where he again will compete for a place on the Bear water team. He has two more years of competition remaining.

Time for the preliminary examination was set for 9 o'clock Thursday morning. Merra failed to make bail.

Aside from the still, officers found 100 bottles of beer beneath Merra's bed, it was said.

According to Roland Dye, secretary, plans are progressing satisfactorily for the campaign work and he expressed belief that a strong working organization would be developed.

OLD FAVORITES TO APPEAR IN FIRST COMMUNITY PLAY

It may be true that "Mr. Pin Passes By" next Thursday night through the kindly offices of Santa Ana Community Players, who are opening their 1936-37 season with the delightful A. A. Milne drama by that name, but it is expected that in passing by, the kindly old gentleman will leave a very definite imprint on the minds of Santa Ana play-goers, according to Mona Summers Smith, who has watched the progress of rehearsals with keen interest.

Such old favorites as Gladys Simpson, Sherry, Harry Brackett, Julia Hyde, Valmer Clark, and Lois Sweet LeBar will return to the stage in Spurgeon street theatre in the production, while Lyle Mitchell and Miss Harriet Brackett will be among the new faces. Incidental music in connection with each night's performance will include trombones, cello, and piano.

SAN CLEMENTE BURGLARS GET $4000 IN LOOT

SAN CLEMENTE, Oct. 14.—Rugs, linens and clothing, valued at $4000, were stolen from the new and unoccupied home of Bob Gore, tract manager, some time between Saturday and Monday, it was revealed today by Forest J. Baton, chief of police.

The thieves gained entrance by removing a rear door from its hinges. The furniture and the rugs were not disturbed. A fingerprint expert has been called into the case and arrests are expected within a few days, Baton said.

The burglars used a truck to haul the stolen articles away, the tracks being visible when Gore discovered the theft. Gore planned to move into his new home yesterday.

TWO FINED $200 FOR WILD DRIVING

Two men, arrested over the week end on charges of driving automobiles while under the influence of liquor, were fined $200 each in Judge J. P. Talbot's court yesterday on charges of reckless driving.

MISS MARION DAHL

Know Her?

You ought to know this lovely New York City girl because her blonde beauty has been displayed on so many magazine covers. She's Marion Dahl, 15, of New York City. Artists say she's a "type" they fairly rave over her delicate features and the golden glow of her hair!

Miss Dahl says: "Every one I know, tells me how wonderful my hair looks, nowadays. I don't feel like it's a personal comment, however. I take it more as a compliment to the method I'm using to care for it. It's the rays emanating from New York. All you do is put a little Danderline on your brush each time you use it. My hair was wavy and hard to keep in place, but Danderline makes it soft and easy to dress and holds it like I arrange it for hours! My scalp fairly tingles with vigor after I use it, and it keeps my head so clean. I don't need to shampoo my hair. It keeps the color of my hair marvellously, making it fairly glisten!"

Every application of Danderline tones and refreshes your scalp. It removes the oily film from each strand and makes each strand healthy, plump and soft and manageable. It keeps your hair clean and makes it shine. It's not sticky or greasy. It doesn't wash off. All drug stores have the genuine Danderline bottles.

DEBATE WILL BE FEATURE OF JACIANS' MEET

Bruce Switzer, president of the junior chamber of commerce, today made public a statement regarding the nature of the debate to be held at the next meeting of the organization, to be held Monday night. The announcement was issued on behalf of the board of directors and officers.

"Many people that read the announcement of the debate to be held at the next meeting are under the impression that L. R. Crawford has condemned the policy of the organization and Ernest Winbiger has defended it," said Switzer.

The present board of directors has striven to pursue a definite, constructive program. It has ever had the interest of the community at heart and hoped that a serious, definite program would appeal to the general membership. It was because the members were not attending the general meetings that Crawford made his statements. "Crawford and Winbiger, with several men on each side, will debate the question Monday night in Ketter's cafe."

Rand appeared in court this morning without an attorney. S. B. Kaufman, deputy district attorney, will prosecute the case.

RECOGNITION OF NEW VOTERS IS LIONS CLUB AIM

Thirty Orange county Lions attended the meeting in Hattiesburg last night, at the Orange county council of Lions clubs and heard reports from delegates to the conference of Southern California clubs, held in Glendale early this month.

Louis Hopkins, of Anaheim, told of the plan proposed at this conference, which calls on the Lions to lead their communities in recognizing new voters, those who have become of age since the last election and those newly naturalized.

The suggestion was made that this be done on a holiday, such as Washington's birthday, or Lincoln's birthday, and that a certificate in commemoration of the event be presented to each new voter. Hopkins also urged the Lions clubs to lead in a "get out the vote" campaign.

It was announced that Anaheim will be host to the Lions of Southern California at the next group conference, in April.

Biebert was arrested by officers who were called to the scene and given a ticket charging reckless driving.

HYDROPLANE RACES ON BAY OCTOBER 28 GET APPROVAL OF NEWPORT BEACH COUNCIL

NEWPORT BEACH, Oct. 16.—The city council last night placed its official stamp of approval on hydroplane races to be staged on the bay October 28. The races are being arranged by the chamber of commerce and will feature a Navy day program to be presented in the harbor district. A city ordinance which limits the speed of motor boats on the bay provides that permission for racing may be given by the city council. The races are to be held under the auspices of the American Power Boat association and will be supervised locally by the harbor master.

The fire truck stationed on Balboa island will be moved back to the Richardson and Dromgold garage, it was decided by the council. The truck was moved some time ago into another garage. Richardson and Dromgold had donated the use of their garage to the city for nearly two years.

Councilmen last night received a bill for $10 for housing the truck in the new garage and decided to move it. The bill will pay a rental of $40 per year for the Richardson garage.

The $4,000,000 state park bond issue which will come before the voters in November received the endorsement of the city council last night.

One city ordinance was read for the first time. The ordinance involves a resolution adopted some time ago to abandon a portion of First street in the East Newport park.

A request that a portion of ocean front boulevard in Newport Beach be added was made by the chamber of commerce. The street was widened recently and it is desired that the new portion be added. The matter was placed in the hands of the street committee.

A request for the city to move a sign at the western entrance to the town was made by the Townsend Land company. The company plans to erect a service station at a point near the sign.

Citizens Alfred Smith was instructed to write for more information on the services rendered by the Airport Chamber of Commerce of America. The chamber in a communication to the council offered the services of experts in assisting in locating an airport here.

A request to change a city license from Charles M. Craig to Harold J. Johnson was approved by the council.

An explanation as to the water rates charged outside of the city was made by City Attorney Roland Thompson at the request of Councilman Lloyd Claire. Claire stated that some criticism had been directed at the council for supplying water outside of the city at the same rate charged inside the city. It was explained by Thompson that the rate was set by a state statute, but that a small maintenance charge could be made.

City Engineer R. L. Patterson gave a short report of a meeting of sewer experts held in conjunction with the League of Municipalities in San Bernardino recently. The entire council was invited to inspect pavement on a one day trip to Southern California cities. The investigation is being made to determine the type of paving to place on Lido Isle. The next meeting of the city council will be November 5.

FASHION SHOW AT EXCHANGE CLUB GOING TO DAVIS RESERVATIONS

The program at the Exchange club meeting today included a fashion show. Four pretty girls, costumed in the latest fall gowns and coats, delighted the eyes of the members as they strolled past the tables while Miss Ruth Armstrong played soothing notes on the piano.

It was all right because the wives and friends of the Exchange club men were present. The soothing music was played out of respect for the men. Prices were announced. The display was offered through the courtesy of the Rankin Dry Goods company and was introduced by Bruce Switzer.

The annual "Ladies day" of the club was featured by the presence not only of wives but also by the presence of four of the women who are carrying on Americanization work among the foreign-born people of Santa Ana. The club is sponsoring and contributing to the support of the activity and heard a report from Mrs. Golden Norwood, director.

There are 24 classes in operation at present and the first month's session showed an attendance increase of over 50 per cent over that of last year, Mrs. Norwood said. Seven of the groups meet at night. There are eight Americanization workers, three of whom are full time instructors, she stated. The total enrollment is 234. Accompanying Mrs. Norwood were Mrs. Bessie Harter, Mrs. Jessie Hayden and Miss Florence Moreland, of the Americanization department.

Gene Douglas, president, presided and announced that Lester Tubbs would be program chairman for next week.

ORANGE COUNTY MAY HAVE TO PRESENTED AT BOY FARMERS CUT BREAKFAST EXCHANGE CLUB GOING TO DAVIS RESERVATIONS

Sixty Orange county junior farmers and their leaders will leave Santa Ana at 7 a. m., tomorrow, for the University of California farm, at Davis, where they will attend a two-day convention in company with hundreds of other boys and girls from Southern California.

The trip was arranged by the Orange County Farm bureau through Eric Eastman, assistant farm advisor, who is in charge of the junior club work in this section.

Throughout the year the boys have been engaged in working out farm projects. They exhibited their products at the Orange County fair, the Pomona and Riverside fairs, at which they won a large number of first places. Those who succeeded in making the trip to Davis are the boys whose work has been of the highest standard throughout the year, according to Eastman.

After two days at Davis, part of which will be in convention and part in field demonstrations, the boys will return to their homes Sunday.

ORANGE COUNTY MAY HAVE TO PRESENTED AT BOY FARMERS CUT BREAKFAST EXCHANGE CLUB GOING TO DAVIS RESERVATIONS

Investigation today revealed to Bruce Switzer and others that it will be impossible to accommodate 1000 persons at the meeting of the Breakfast club, Sunday morning, unless tables are set out in the open. Whether it will be advisable to attempt this will be determined later. The hangar at the Martin port, in which the breakfast meeting is to be held, is not of sufficient size for tables seating 1000.

Asserting that tickets now are selling very rapidly and stressing the point that possibly there will be room for only 500 persons, Switzer said persons wishing to attend should make their ticket reservations without delay—with Friday as the last day on which they may be made. Committees will visit service clubs this week to give members opportunity to make reservations.

Eugene Kahen, program chairman, was in Los Angeles today conferring with movie managers concerning special arrangements for the big meeting.

It was announced before his departure that Garcia Roe and his wife, who would appear in Spanish dances. The dances are in vaudeville and are scheduled on programs in which they appear.

Switzer announced that plans were being completed for moving pictures for presentation at Santa Ana theaters.

Capt. Henry Meehan, in charge of the Orange county motorcycle squad and chairman of a breakfast club committee, will place plans to the airport to direct persons not familiar with the tour course to the airport.

E. C. Fuqua, Los Angeles lecturer and preacher, will speak tonight at 7:30 in the Church of Christ auditorium at Broadway and Walnut streets. His subject is the 26th chapter of Matthew.

Hoover Wins 5 to 1—With Scouts

NEWPORT BEACH, Oct. 16.—If the selection of the president of the United States was left to Boy Scouts of Newport Beach, Herbert Hoover would win by an overwhelming majority. A straw vote taken at a meeting of the local Boy Scouts gave Hoover better than a 5 to 1 victory over Alfred Smith.

More than 95 per cent of the Boy Scout members were present at the meeting.

WASTE WATER SYSTEM GETS H. B. APPROVAL

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Oct. 16.—The city council last night recommended that the county board of supervisors grant a franchise for a waste water line from various Orange county oil fields to the mouth of the flood control channel.

After hearing C. C. Sharpnberg, president of the Waste Water company; F. H. Young, prominent Union Oil company engineer, and H. H. Anderson, vice president of the Waste Water company, the council voted unanimously to recommend such action. The various oil companies recently formed a corporation to work for the solution of the problem of waste water disposal. The resultant plan is to have several plants for the separation of the oil and water. The salt water, damaging to domestic water, will be conducted through the pipes to Alamogordo bay, where it will flow into the ocean. As the water is perfectly pure, no detrimental results to the bathing beaches will be suffered it was declared. The fish and game commission and state board of health have commended this plan, it was declared.

The council offered no objection to the plan to discontinue railway service between Huntington Beach and La Brea.

The city attorney was ordered to bring action to remove the oil derrick and pump hole at the corner of Eleventh and Palm streets. The rig has been declared a public nuisance and action is to be taken under a state law.

A special meeting will be held next Monday for the purpose of selecting a new police car.

NOTED ARTIST PICKS COUNTY FOR RESIDENCE

SAN CLEMENTE, Oct. 16.—This Spanish village by the sea has become the home of another artist. Ossip de Perelma, a painter of international reputation, arrived this morning with 75 pictures. He will start construction of a home, studio and art gallery immediately. He plans to show his work in an improvised gallery within a week and will invite Southern California critics to view his work.

"I'm from no school, I'm a school in myself," said Ossip in talking of his work. "I was graduated at Imperial Academy of Fine Arts, St. Petersburg, and have had exhibitions in Luxembourg, Paris, Berlin, London, the Smithsonian institute, Detroit, New York and my last display was in the Golden Gate galleries at San Francisco."

The Russian artist was a protégé of Franklin K. Lane, former secretary of the interior, and has done several famous portraits of Lane. One of them now hangs in the Smithsonian institute.

The Russian artist Jamshel was responsible for Ossip's second visit to these shores, which the artist says will now be his home. The senator brought the internationally famous artist to San Francisco where he did much notable work. It was in San Francisco that he first revealed to California his work. Finishing his labors in day city region, de Perelma decided he liked California so much that he would make it his home. He then got in touch with Captain H. H. Hammer in San Clemente and now he says he will finish his life in this city.

PARENTS BLAMED FOR GAIN IN CRIME BY LOS ANGELES WOMAN JUDGE IN ADDRESS

ORANGE, Oct. 16.—That the home is not valued as it was formerly was one of the reasons advanced by Judge Georgia Bullock of the municipal court, Los Angeles, for the increase of crime, in a talk given in the Woman's clubhouse last night.

Judge Bullock was introduced by Mrs. W. J. Sutherland, chairman of the program committee of the Woman's club, under the auspices of which the meeting was held.

Mrs. Sutherland stated that Judge Bullock is the only woman judge in California and that among the cases tried in her court but one had gone to a superior court for appeal and in that one case, her decision was upheld by the superior court. Judge Bullock is a graduate of the University of California at Los Angeles, Mrs. Sutherland said, and was admitted to the bar in 1913.

Judge Bullock spoke on "Law Enforcement," speaking from the angle that enforcement affects minor children and women. She said that Los Angeles has the largest court west of Chicago and that in this court there are 26 departments of justice. All cases pertaining to women with the exception of those regarding a violation of the Wright act or traffic ordinances are tried before her.

She declared that among the larger cities, Los Angeles was a white spot so far as crime was concerned. The speaker named 20,000 as the number of ordinances existing on the statute books of Los Angeles. Some of these ordinances she said, are not well known.

It is a misdemeanor, she stated, to scrub the outside of a house between the hours of 7:30 a. m. and 9 p. m. and only recently a woman had been brought before her on this charge. As an advocate of cleanliness, she said, she fined the woman $1 for the violation of the ordinance and suspended the fine.

"Many reasons are advanced for crime," Judge Bullock said, "among these are too severe administration of the laws and a too lenient administration of the laws. Too lax an attitude of all toward the enforcement of the law may well be blamed for this condition."

"A recent change in the penal code may help rectify present crime conditions, but this change will not be detected until two or three years have passed," she said.

Judge Bullock declared that parent welfare work should be undertaken in conjunction with child welfare work. Children, she said, should have educational and spiritual equipment to help them through life. Every day, she said, she passed on from 10 to 25 cases where failure to provide was charged parents of minor children. Men and women were alike, she declared, some good and some not. The suffering of little children and crime would be lessened, she said, when parents felt a deeper sense of responsibility.

Judge Bullock's talk followed a 6:30 o'clock dinner when members of the Rotary club, the Lions club and the Business and Professional Women's club were guests. The meeting was opened by an invocation by the Rev. Earl Pierce Cochran of the First Presbyterian church. W. O. Hart of Orange, gave a comprehensive summary of the reapportionment measure.

OLD OX CART UNCOVERED AT SAN CLEMENTE

SAN CLEMENTE, Oct. 16.—Tragedy that stalked an early Southern California family has been unearthed in San Clemente. Workers under the direction of Oscar Easley, contractor, in cleaning up a canyon in the lower end of this city, found remains of an old cart and the skulls of two oxen. The two wheeled cart, made of California red wood, was well preserved. Laborers hope to find more of the facts of the tragedy. Father St. John O'Sullivan, head of the San Juan Capistrano mission, says the accident was caused by a cloudburst more than 100 years ago and that the cart, oxen and perhaps driver were swept to their doom while crossing the canyon on the El Camino Real, which used to run about 200 yards north of where it now is. Father O'Sullivan believes that the cart was going from San Luis Rey to San Juan Capistrano, the only centers of population in this section of California at that time.

Tom Murphine, mayor, and a student of early California history, hopes to reconstruct the cart and place it in the San Clemente museum.

FARMER GIVEN ATTENTION BY KFI AND KFRG

BY THE RADIO EDITOR

Two announcements which should prove of great interest to ranchers of Orange county were made today by radio stations KFI, in Los Angeles, and KFRG, in San Francisco.

Through arrangements made by the agricultural extension service a 10-minute talk, of interest to growers, will be made at 12 o'clock noon, every day this week from KFI. The noon programs, for the remainder of this week, are announced as follows:

October 17—"Hilary and Spread of Citric Acid Scale." By J. P. Coy, horticultural commissioner, San Bernardino county.

October 18—"A County Ordinance on Fire Prevention for Cabin Owners." By C. M. Meredith, assistant fire warden, Los Angeles county.

October 19—"Chemistry and Insects." By J. L. Avery, inspector, division of chemistry, state department of agriculture.

October 20—"Winter Control of Truck Crop Pests." By F. H. Ernest, assistant farm advisor, Los Angeles county.

The second announcement should be of greatest interest to boy and girl farmers, for their organization, the 4-H club, a movement sponsored by the U. S. department of agriculture for the purpose of stimulating farm interest in boys and girls of rural communities, has been given a regular place on programs over KFRG.

At 5:30 p. m. every Thursday, the Club Crier of the 4-H organization will make his appearance before the KFRG "mike" and broadcast current activities of the club. He will discuss the aims and achievements of the 4-H club, among whose most prominent members are numerous Orange county boys and girls.

Kipling Program OVER KFI TONIGHT

Hindu temples and the sound of temple bells, brilliant peacocks, chattering monkeys, water-bells, British Tommies, and that "Himp-himp" of brick-dust, Gunga Din will thrum the air waves tonight as the newest Eveready hour unfolds.

The occasion will be the broadcasting of an All-Kipling program by The Eveready Hour as a tribute to one of the world's living literary masters—Rudyard Kipling.

The program will be rebroadcast by KFI, Los Angeles, and will start at 8 p. m. coast time.

Six songs will be sung by the American Singers. These include Gunga Din, Danny Deever, Mother O'Mine, Fussy Wussy, Smuggler's Song and Mandalay.

In addition there will be renditions of "Tommy Atkins," "East and West" and "Boots."

Rattlesnake To Broadcast Deadly Buzz

Thousands of radio listeners are going to leap simultaneously several lines feet into the air at 7:30 tonight. It will be entirely a "free will" offering in aerobatics.

The signal for the leap will be the buzz of a real honest-to-goodness rattlesnake. The snake will be under close guard at the KGO studio in the Hotel St. Francis, San Francisco, but according to advance tests made at the General Electric station he will sound like he was coiled on the living room rug.

Interference Is Topic At Meeting Of Radio Dealers

Local interference and steps taken to clear the air of all obstacles to excellent radio reception in Santa Ana and Orange county were discussed at yesterday's meeting of the Santa Ana Radio Dealers' association, which met for luncheon in Ketchum's cafe.

What will You do when Your Children Cry for Castoria

There is hardly a household that hasn't heard of Castoria. At least five million homes are never without it. If there are children in your family, there's almost daily need of this soothing preparation. And every night you have a very thoughtful mother who has a bottle of Castoria. Just a few drops, and baby is comfortable. A few moments, and that wailing or convulsion is relieved, or diarrhea checked. Yet this is a vegetable product; a remedy most palatable for youngsters. Castoria is about the only thing you have ever heard doctors advise giving to infants. Stronger medicines are dangerous to a tiny baby, however harmless they may be to grown-ups. Good old Castoria! Remember the name, and remember to buy it. It may spare you a sleepless, anxious night. It is always ready, always safe to use in emergencies, or for everyday ailments. Any hour of the day or night that Baby becomes fretful, or restless, Adv.

DODGE BROTHERS NEW VICTORY SIX

The DeLuxe Sedan

Smarter in Appearance ~ More Luxurious in Appointments ~ With Increased Room and Still Finer Performance

Style stands out in all nine new Victory body types. There is an inviting swagger in the sweep of the improved one-piece fenders, an assurance of power in the higher and more massive radiator and hood lines.

Bodies are not only smarter, but larger, providing increased head-room, leg-room and seat-comfort. Deeper, softer cushions and specially selected hardware and upholstery sound a distinctive note of interior luxury, while higher and wider doors facilitate entrance and exit.

The new Victory Six emphasizes the unusual structural advantages first introduced in the original Victory. The chassis frame is so bolted to the body that it literally becomes a part thereof—a simplified, more rugged, and squeak-proof construction that reduces weight, eliminates rattles and lowers the center of gravity.

This unique Victory design provides roadability and riding ease as remarkable and unusual as Victory pick-up, power and flexibility.

There is just one way to find out how different and better Victory performance really is. Drive the car yourself!

FOOTBALL IS FAMILY AFFAIR

The Hanleys of Northwestern have their first Big Ten game of the year this coming Saturday when Northwestern plays a revamped Ohio State eleven at Evanston. The Hanleys, three brothers, are making Northwestern football a sort of family affair this year as Dick is head coach, Pat is an assistant coach and Lee plays quarterback. Experts predict the youngest Hanley will give Northwestern the best field generalship it has had in years. Dick is at the left here, Lee in the center and Pat at the right.

DEMPSEY, 34 SOON, EXPECTS TO BE AT 'CROSS ROADS' OF COLORFUL CAREER NEXT YEAR

By JAMES L. KILGALLAN
(International News Service Staff Correspondent)
NEW YORK, Oct. 16.—Jack Dempsey revealed in an exclusive interview today that he expects to be at the "cross roads" of his glamorous career in just about a year. He will have $1,000,000 or more but no job and he expects at the idea of being an unemployed millionaire. He will be 34 years old in another year, perhaps an actor no longer and he will be through forever with the ring. He will be asking himself the question: "What will I do?"

ALHAMBRA IS IMPRESSIVE IN PREP FOOTBALL

Alhambra's 25 to 12 victory over San Diego was the most impressive bit of work accomplished by any team in the opening week of the Coast Preparatory league's 1932 schedule.

The Hilltops, losing virtually all of last year's team as well as their coach, were not expected to defeat George Hobbs and his 14 lettermen but the Moors hardly were expected to triumph so handsily.

Chief interest this week, outside of the game in Santa Ana between "Tex" Oliver's Saints and "Mick" Madden's Whittier Poets, will center on the Alhambra-Long Beach conflict at Alhambra, which will give a general idea as to the relative strength of Santa Ana and Alhambra, now rated as the team to beat for the title. The Saints do not play Alhambra until November 24.

Glendale, with a host of veterans, had a hard time "taking" a scrappy South Pasadena eleven which long has been the door-mat of the league. The score was 8 to 0 but the Tigers lost only because they had two of their kicks blocked at most embarrassing positions.

Pasadena, making its debut under the former All-American tackle from Pennsylvania, John Thurman, played smart football to beat Whittier, 6 to 0. Both teams had several chances to score but the Bulldogs put over the only touchdown in the second quarter.

Santa Ana decisively outplayed

He will have wealth, robust health, fame no doubt, friends galore and a loyal and talented wife but he will be like a fish out of water. Money isn't everything with Jack. He will be eager and restless to do some thing worth while but, as he rather plaintively explained today, he will find himself untrained for business and unfitted for a professional career.

"I will be starting all over again, a graduate of the college of hard knocks, and ambitious to succeed in some worth while line of endeavor," said the former heavyweight champion of the world. "What I will do I frankly don't know but I'm giving it plenty of thought. I'm going to try hard and I think I'll make good."

Dempsey figures he has just about a year to go as an actor. Part of that time in the play in which he is starring on Broadway and the rest making a "talkie" or two. Producers are after both Dempsey and his wife, the dark-eyed, attractive Estelle Taylor, to do a talking motion picture or two. After that, Dempsey wonders—what?

The affable and unassuming ex-champion not only frankly discussed his uncertain future but chatted entertainingly about his past. Among other things he said:

1.—That Tex Rickard is the "outstanding personality" he has met.

2.—That the "biggest thrill" of his sensational career to him was when he knocked out Jess Willard in Toledo O., on July 4, 1919, and won the championship.

3.—That his hairy chested Lulu Firpo of the Argentine came nearer to knocking him out than any other man.

4.—That he likes the public.

5.—That he feels perfectly at home with prize

Saints To Go Against Whittier Next

OLD 'JINX Foe' COMES TO S. A. GRID SATURDAY

Whittier, the school which two years ago replaced Pasadena as the "jinx" opponent on Santa Ana high school's football schedule, will be the next prep team to meet "Tex" Oliver's Saints. The Poets, conquerors of the local, 20-0 in 1925 and 13-0 in 1927, came to Poly field here Saturday afternoon for the first conference game of the season at home.

Tickets for reserved seats will be on sale at the Victor Walker sporting goods store tomorrow, high school officials announced. Approximately 500 seats, located opposite the middle of the field, will be offered to the general public.

Coch Oliver and his assistant, Bill Foote, personally scouted the Whittier eleven yesterday and they both came home with plenty to tell their charges. The Poets lost to Pasadena in a grueling battle, 6 to 0, but Whittier might just as well have won for it had several splendid opportunities to do so.

It was the size, charge and fight of the big Whittier line which worried the Saint mentor, however. "Tex" thought they never come any bigger in high school circles than the "Tex" Oliver Long Beach forwards until he saw the Poets who have tackles and guards averaging close to 185 pounds and ends who will scale better than 170. Their chunky little center, who is the best man in the line next to Rusk, a husky tackle of three seasons who plays without a head gear, will scale about 165.

Santa Ana will do everything in its power to win from the Whittier eleven which last year outsmarted the Saints and handed them the unexpected defeat which really cost them the league championship. The season before that it was even worse for the Poets came to Poly field and rolled up three touchdowns without even half trying.

Santa Ana never has played well against Whittier probably because both in 1926 and 1927 it had just come through with splendid performances against Long Beach and had "let down" or become over confident.

It will be Oliver's job this week to impress on his men the importance of the Whittier game and to key them up to a fight which is sure to be harder than the one at Long Beach for the Poets are bigger as a team and have a much better offensive. The Jackrabbits were almost impotent offensively even if they were strong on goal-line defense.

The entire Saint squad, except the three cripples—Frank Wurster, Melvin Maxwell and Neal Thornhill, went back to work today with the determination to "take" Whittier, their old stumbling block. Wurster, the best tackle on the squad, will not be ready for action for two weeks. Maxwell broke his wrist in a fall from the bus which took the team to Long Beach and is out for the season. He was a reserve guard. Thornhill has a broken ankle and also is through for the year. All of the others will be ready to go Saturday, barring injuries in practice this week.

The affable and unassuming ex-champion not only frankly discussed his uncertain future but chatted entertainingly about his past. Among other things he said:

1.—That Tex Rickard is the "outstanding personality" he has met.

2.—That the "biggest thrill" of his sensational career to him was when he knocked out Jess Willard in Toledo O., on July 4, 1919, and won the championship.

Yost Reported New Coach At Vanderbilt

ANN ARBOR, Mich., Oct. 16.—Although Stanford M. Phelps, publicity chairman for the athletic association, today branded a report that Coach Fielding H. Yost has deserted the University of Michigan to take over the athletic dictatorship of Vanderbilt university as "rot and nonsense," Michigan alumni and students were not inclined to scoff at the report.

Yost has been in Nashville since last Friday, presumably visiting his sister and brother-in-law, Dan McGuigan, head coach at Vanderbilt.

RIVERS MAKES FEARFUL LAMB OF BIG 'TIGER'

BY RINGSIDER

Jimmie Rivers, Fullerton's grand and glorious contribution to the sport science, should have been a magician. He made a lamb out of a tiger quicker than it takes to write it in the feature at Boyd Ellis' Delhi House of Hooks last night.

Jimmie was matched with "Tiger" Williams, one of Ted Frenchie's old time colored welterweights from Central avenue, and Williams was just a cub in Rivers' hands. The Fullerton "fighting fool" stopped Williams with one punch early in the first round and it appeared that the "Tiger" was ready to get out of there even before the bout took effect.

The top spot was the only bout of the collection that went haywire, the rest fairly bristling with activity.

The second semi-windup between Howard Johnston, Santa Ana middleweight, and Walter Long, San Juan Capistrano, was a sweet slugging bee until Johnston cut a long gash over Long's eye with a hard right hand in the second frame and Long's senseless in the towel, fearing permanent injury to their charge. This was Johnston's third straight victory at Delhi.

Kid Kenneth, "baiting" for Eddie Sears against the aggressive Romeo Lemon, made an able showing against the Fullerton puncher until the fourth when Lemon put him away. For three rounds they put up a vicious battle with Lemon having an edge.

Danny Stewart is just about the best boy Johnny Hernandez has ever met but Johnny dug in and matched him with the best but he has never offered and won, by a shade.

Mike Cannella felled Babe Orocco twice in the second and the latter's corner quit for the Babe, tossing in the sponge.

Al Smith was too good for Young Martin although Martin made a game showing in four rounds.

FOOTBALL

NEW YORK, Oct. 16.—With six big games scheduled, the list of unbeaten or untied Eastern eleven will be considerably curtailed next Saturday. With Army meeting Harvard at Cambridge, Yale entertaining Brown, Pennsylvania tackling Penn State, Columbia playing Dartmouth at Hanover, Lafayette taking on Bucknell at Lewisburg, Pa., and Syracuse facing Wake Forest for its contest with Nebraska, the day offers one of the greatest cards of the season.

The Army is invading Cambridge for the first time in 15 years. The Cadets got their baptism of fire in the Southern Methodist contest, while Harvard will be meeting her first major opponent.

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 16.—The worries of Coach Howard Jones of U. S. C. were increased today as he put his charges through a practice session minus the services of Larry McCaslin, varsity end. McCaslin has a dislocated shoulder, received in the game with St. Mary's. Physicians who have examined him express doubts over his ability to be in the lineup against the University of California at Berkeley Saturday.

Josee Hibbs, All-American tackle and captain of the Trojan aggregation, was back in practice for the first time since the Oregon State game when he sprained his ankle. He limps a little, but hopes to be in shape in time to carry his burden of the attack against the Bears.

BERKELEY, Oct. 16.—Overtime practice sessions were in order today for the California Bears who faced one of their hardest battles of the season Saturday with the U. S. C. Trojans.

LEGION'S SHOW TOMORROW IS SURE SELL-OUT

With two real champions heading the show, seven bouts scheduled in all and a wrestling match thrown in for good measure, Santa Ana post No. 131, American Legion, seemed virtually assured today that its benefit program at the Orange County Amateur Athletic club tomorrow night will be a genuine sell-out.

Tickets may be obtained at the Givens-Cannon pharmacy, Valencia billiard hall, George Platt service station, T. J. Neal sporting goods store, Santa Ana hotel and the Parsons drug store.

The World War veterans are making all arrangements for the disposal of the show and will reap 100 per cent harvest from the intake, Henry T. Foust, promoter of the Orange County club, having turned over his punch palace to the Legionnaires for the occasion. Fred Faber, athletic committee chairman, is attending to the Legion's part of the venture. Receipts will go into the post's welfare fund.

Zenaydo Chavez, the "Santa Ana Whirlwind," who holds the Western A. A. A's gold belt in the welterweight division and who is the sweetest little drawing card Santa Ana has produced since big Jack Imman came out of obscurity seven years ago, and made a remarkable showing against Kid Mexico, Chavez's fistful guardian, will appear in the feature of a double main event.

Zenaydo will take on a rugged little customer from Anaheim by the name of Jesse Ayala, who seems to work best against "fast company." Ayala has been boxing at the two Delhi clubs for months and has been a consistent winner. His last two starts were made in the Foust pavilion where he knocked off Manuel Guardado the first time and then polished up Art Gerardo, Manuel's brother who came here determined to avenge his family name. Hymie Miller, national amateur titleholder at 118 pounds who represented the United States at the Olympic Games at Amsterdam, Holland, last summer, and who nearly provoked a riot when partisan judges robbed him of a decision, faces Tony Mareno, Pleasanton youth, in the other half of the main event. Mareno is hardly a match for Miller but he is the best available at the weight hereabouts.

The wrestling contest, something new here, will match Jimmy Rivers, Pacific Coast amateur welterweight champion, and Johnny Hill, said to be his leading rival.

Padena, runners-up in the Southern tourney last year, sustained an emphatic loss at Palo Alto, losing to the Stanford Frosh, 33 to 6.

Making a clean sweep for the Big Three, the University of California freshmen drubbed San Bernardino, 37 to 6, at Berkeley. Coach Schaeffer's tribe that last year won the Southern California title was no match for the Berkeley lads and were held in complete check.

Padena, runners-up in the Southern tourney last year, sustained an emphatic loss at Palo Alto, losing to the Stanford Frosh, 33 to 6.

Morgan Submits To New Operation

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 16.—Ted Morgan, junior lightweight champion, was back in the hospital today after a short respite. It was necessary for him to return to have another operation for blood poisoning. Morgan's right hand became infected while he was training here for his fight with Santiago Sorilla.

MOHANE DIES PENNILESS
LOS ANGELES, Oct. 16.—Preparations were in progress today for the burial of Earl Mohane, veteran California boxing manager and referee, who died penniless here yesterday. Mohane, before a prolonged sickness overtook him, was a comedy film player in the later years of his life.

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, Oct. 16.—The Stanford football squad was hard at work today whipping into shape for the game with the Idaho Vandals in Kassar stadium at San Francisco Friday.

The Vandals are somewhat of an unknown quantity to the Cardinals. Stanford scouts brought back word that Idaho may try to turn the game into a punting duel.

Captain "Big" Hoffman will be looked to to do the booting for the Cardinals and will be without the assistance of Frank Wilson, who is still bothered with a knee injury suffered in the Oregon game.

DONS TO MEET PASADENANS IN LEAGUE OPENER

Beginning to recover their equilibrium after that terrible thrashing at the hands of the University of Southern California freshmen, Coach Bill Cook's Santa Ana junior college football squad went into intensive training today for their first game of the Southern California Junior College conference season—with Pasadena at Pasadena next Saturday.

Yesterday afternoon Coach Cook put his men through some light practice scrimmage and signal running. They were all pretty well spent and Cook wanted to give them a chance to get all over their soreness before putting them through too strenuous an afternoon.

No new injuries seem to have developed and all were present and accounted for with the exception of Jack Casey who is confined to his home with his injured leg. McLean and Dugger are still out but it is hoped that Dugger will be able to be in suit before the week is over. McLean is definitely out of the first two or three conference games. Dugger may be ready for the Long Beach contest here October 17.

Most of the junior colleges in the Southern California Conference that gets under way Saturday were defeated last Saturday. Of the six Jayco tilts, two junior colleges were victorious, one was shaded by a single point and three more were buried under an avalanche of touchdowns by the powerful fresh eleven of California's Big Three—U.S.C., California and Stanford.

Long Beach's 7 to 0 victory count over Northwestern university and Fullerton's 33 to 6 win over the Occidental Frosh were the only wins reported. Fullerton's win was as unexpected as it was emphatic. After rolling up a 19 to 0 lead in the first quarter, Coach Art Nunn used his second and third string eleven for the rest of the game. Since Compton trounced the Oxy babes, 40 to 6, and Glendale engaged in a 0 to 0 tie with the Tigercats, Fullerton became a power with Compton.

Bert Heiser's scrapping Chaffey Jaycoes dropped a stubbornly fought 7 to 6 tie to California Christian college. Whitty, Chaffey quarter, was outstanding to slice codices of yardage and carry the ball over for the score. Chaffey of the eastern division proved that the inlanders do not have the class of the coast eleven, as Fullerton easily trounced the Christians by two touchdowns last week.

Padena, runners-up in the Southern tourney last year, sustained an emphatic loss at Palo Alto, losing to the Stanford Frosh, 33 to 6.

Making a clean sweep for the Big Three, the University of California freshmen drubbed San Bernardino, 37 to 6, at Berkeley. Coach Schaeffer's tribe that last year won the Southern California title was no match for the Berkeley lads and were held in complete check.

COCHRANE WINS MOST VALUABLE PLAYER AWARD

BY DIXON STEWART

(United Press Staff Correspondent)
CHICAGO, Oct. 16.—Gordon Stanley Cochrane, "pepper box" catcher for Connie Mack's Philadelphia Athletics, today was named the most valuable player to his club in the American league.

Cochrane had the narrow margin of two points over Outfielder Henry Manush, of St. Louis, receiving a total of 53 points while his rival polled 51.

Under the American league conditions, neither Babe Ruth nor Lou Gehrig, previous winners, was eligible.

Four of the eight members of the commission making the award placed Cochrane first, while three others made him their second choice. One member did not place him at all, picking Jimmy Fox as the Athletics' most valuable player.

Every member of the commission voted for Manush, two placing him first, one second, four third, and one fifth. Second baseman Tony Lauer and Pitcher Waite Hoyt, of the Yankees, were dearest popular figures

Since the world series of 1925, he was battled to all cor-

Only 4 More Days OF REGISTER'S $17,000 AUTOMOBILE AND PRIZE CAMPAIGN

Just four days remain to get subscriptions and win in The Register's $17,000 prize campaign. The Register's famous prize event is rushing through the home stretch at unprecedented speed. Candidates throughout the territory are voting their way to the top with such determination and enthusiasm that all Santa Ana and surrounding territory is thoroughly aroused to the importance of the momentous question about to be decided.

The final vote schedule, shown below, is the supreme opportunity to attain success. It enables candidates to earn thousands of votes on new subscriptions turned in this week. This schedule replaces the former schedule of regular votes in use up to last Saturday, and is to be used in determining the number of votes for each subscription during this week. Every moment counts from now until the end. Every subscription is vital to the success of any candidate. The race with many is close. DO YOUR BEST NOW.

FINAL VOTE SCHEDULE

Showing the tremendous vote value of NEW subscriptions during the last week of the campaign (October 15 to 20, 9 p.m.). This schedule is positively final and will not be changed. It is the only schedule that counts now, and supersedes all previous schedules, except that votes on old subscriptions are the same as they have been throughout the campaign. Votes on NEW subscriptions as shown below, are figured as equivalent to 70,000 extra votes on a $20 combination, thus complying with the original announcement.

Vote Value of Subscription Payments

By carrier in Santa Ana and all towns where carrier service is maintained. Also by mail in Orange county.				By Mail Outside Orange County
	Price	New Sub.	Old Sub.		Price	New Sub.	Old Sub.
3 Months	1.95	11,825	2,500	3 Months	2.70	14,450	2,500
6 Months	3.75	23,125	7,500	6 Months	5.25	28,375	7,500
12 Months	7.00	44,500	20,000	12 Months	10.00	50,000	20,000
24 Months	14.00	89,000	40,000	24 Months	20.00	100,000	40,000
36 Months	21.00	133,500	70,000	36 Months	30.00	140,000	70,000

HOW TO FIGURE SECOND PAYMENTS

Second payments turned in the last week of the campaign are figured according to the above schedule. For example: If the first payment was a NEW subscription for $1.95 for 3 months and the second payment is $1.00 to make total of $2.95 for six months, the second payment votes would be 10,000. If the first payment was $2.75 new and the second payment is $2.25, the second payment votes would be 36,375. Other second payments are figured in the same way.

NOTE—It is absolutely necessary to write "Second Payment" on the remittance sheet when turning in second payments; also give amount of first payment, otherwise second payment votes will not be allowed.

BALLOT BOX LOCKED AND SEALED

R. D. Crenshaw and Company,
Certified Public Accountants,
to Audit Returns

During this last week of the campaign, a locked and sealed box will be used in which candidates may deposit their subscriptions and remittances to cover same. This box has been sealed by R. D. CRENSHAW & COMPANY, Certified Public Accountants, with offices in The First National Bank Building, who will have charge of auditing vote returns of the candidates. The sealed box will not be opened until after the close of the campaign by the auditors, who will then check the votes secured by the candidates throughout the entire campaign.

By using the sealed ballot box, no one will know what each candidate is turning in, not even the campaign manager. This assures absolute fairness to all.

Use Final Vote Schedule

Use the Final Vote Schedule above, this week. It's the only schedule that counts now. Be sure to enter the proper number of votes on your remittance sheets. Be careful to enter your subscriptions properly "New" or "Old." Turning in new subscriptions as Old may cause regrets later, as subscriptions are verified and candidates turning in old subscriptions as new will lose votes by doing so.

BE SURE when turning in Second Payments to mark them as such on the remittance sheet and give amount of first payment. If you are NOT certain of the number of votes to be allowed on second payments, do not enter the votes—the proper credit will be given by the campaign department.

These Are Final Instructions, Read Carefully

As a matter of caution, and to guard against the possibility of loss to candidates during these last days of the campaign, final instructions are herewith appended. All candidates should read and weigh every line carefully.

1. All subscriptions with remittances to cover same must be in the Campaign Office of The Register by 9 p. m. October 20 in order to count in the campaign.
2. Examine your vote ballots carefully and see that the correct number of votes have been issued on same. Pay particular attention to second payments and see that proper credit has been given. If there are any corrections to be made, notify the campaign manager in person or writing, and return ballots for proper correction. The Register will not be responsible for clerical errors unless notification is given, whereupon corrections will be made.
3. Under no condition will votes be transferred from one candidate to another. This is an absolute rule and will be strictly enforced.
4. Second payments must be marked as such on the remittance sheet. Also put down amount of first payment. Otherwise second payment votes will not be allowed.
5. Only bona fide subscriptions will be accepted. No sums of money will be accepted with the names of subscribers to be supplied later. Every subscription must be entered on the usual remittance sheet and remittance must accompany same.
6. Be sure to enter your subscription properly "NEW" or "OLD," and give complete address of subscribers.
7. Absolutely no money will be refunded on subscriptions paid in during this campaign.
8. Prompt acknowledgment will be made of all subscriptions after the ballot box has been opened by the auditors and the same checked by them. If you do not receive prompt acknowledgment of subscriptions and remittances you turn in, be sure to notify the campaign manager immediately.
9. Check your subscriptions over carefully before depositing them in the ballot box.
10. Subscriptions mailed this week, with remittances to cover same, must reach the campaign office of The Register by 9 p. m. October 20 in order to count in the campaign.

HOW PRIZES WILL BE AWARDED

Six of the beautiful motor cars to be given are Capital Prizes, and will be awarded to the six candidates, regardless of district or division, who obtain the highest number of votes during the campaign. The candidate who leads the entire field in votes will receive a $2662 PACKARD 4-PASSENGER COUPE. The second highest candidate will receive a $2320 MARMON SEDAN. To the third highest candidate will be awarded a $2178 STUDEBAKER "C" SEDAN. Fourth highest, a $1960 REO BROUGHAM. Fifth highest, a $1655 HUPMOBILE "C" SEDAN. Sixth highest, a $1485 NASH "C" SEDAN.

The remaining automobiles (4 in number) are Grand Prizes; they will be awarded to the two highest candidates in vote standings in each of the two campaign divisions, after the capital prize winners are eliminated. The Grand Prizes will be awarded in the following order:

All candidates who do not win one of the above prizes, but remain active from the time they enter until the campaign closes will be paid a cash commission of ten per cent (10%) on all new subscription money they turn in.

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 16.—(UP)—The Pacific Electric Railway company has filed articles of incorporation for conducting a subsidiary which will transport freight by motor truck.

GERMANS HAPPY AT RESULT OF WAR, SAYS SANTA ANAN UPON RETURN FROM EUROPE

Simultaneously with the landing of the Graf Zeppelin, yesterday, after its transatlantic voyage to America, Dr. K. A. Loersch and son, Alfred, of Santa Ana, arrived in this city after a four months' tour of Europe in which they were among the last visitors to be allowed to view the huge dirigible just before its completion.

Visitors were not admitted at the home of the Zeppelin in its final stages of construction, Dr. Loersch recalled, pointing out that he and his son were fortunate in viewing the ship at its home in Friedrichshafen, Germany.

Dr. Loersch made it a point to investigate conditions in Europe and especially Germany. He reported that, in his opinion, the people in the latter country are almost glad that Germany didn't win the World war. They are far better satisfied under the present government than under the old regime, he believes. He is of the opinion that the German farmers and working people feel that a victory might have entrenched the former government more strongly, thus preventing the introduction of democratic conditions.

The trip took the father and son to Germany, Switzerland, Italy, then back to Germany, through France, England and Ireland.

Conditions, especially in Germany, are much the same as before the war in respect to prosperity, Dr. Loersch said. Crops for the last two years have been excellent and this year's crops are the best in 15 years, he reported. Satisfaction and contentment seems to be the general rule, he said.

FOUR GENERATIONS

F. P. Nickey Has Son, Grandson, Great Grandson With Him

"Once upon a time"—as all true fairy stories should begin, there was a little boy in a Pennsylvania Dutch home, near historic Gettysburg, who, thrust out on the world at the tender age of 4, when his parents died, dreamed all through a lonely childhood and a busy, poverty-stricken boyhood of the time when he might travel and see the world. How those dreams have begun to come true will be told you today by one of Santa Ana's leading business men, F. P. Nickey, who for 43 years has been in business in this city and actively identified with all its civic life.

For Nickey was that lonely little lad who was left to the care of comparative strangers at the death of his own parents. He would be the first to tell you, however, that the comparative strangers did all that was possible to bring him up in the pathway of rectitude, for they were a kindly Dutchman family who opened their home to the orphan child and gave him the Christian training that has been a foundation for whatever success has come to him in life.

Master English Language

His next difficulty came when he started to school. For the school was his first introduction to the English language, the Dutch having been the sole tongue he had heard from infancy. Bashful and alone, the little boy had many moments of intense mortification before he mastered the strange new tongue sufficiently to be able to recite his lessons.

But this phase did not last long. All too soon school came to an end for him, and at 14 he again was thrown upon the world. This time he was apprenticed to a tin-smith and that apprenticeship served as his introduction to the hardware business in which he has ever since engaged. When he reached 16, his employer, appreciating the boy's brave spirit and his integrity, offered to teach him the entire business and it was thus he learned all details of his trade, later coming as far west as Iowa, where, as a young man of 19, he engaged in business.

It was in 1886 that F. P. Nickey came to Santa Ana and established the Nickey Hardware company, which for many years has had its plant at 407 West Fourth street. In 1894 Nickey was elected to the county board of supervisors, serving in that office for the next eight years. Many of the more important county buildings were constructed at that time and it was also during his term that James Irvine donated the splendid acreage that now is known all over the country as Orange County park.

STATE SCHOOL CONTROL BILL IS EXPLAINED

Reasons why educators throughout the state are supporting amendment 26, providing for reorganization of the state department of education, were made public today by J. A. Cranston, superintendent of schools in Santa Ana.

The amendment would provide for eliminating the double-headed control now in existence, whereby the people elect the state superintendent of public instruction and the governor appoints the state board of education. This system recently has caused considerable friction, which resulted in loss of efficiency, educators agree.

Under the new scheme proposed the board of education would continue to be appointed by the governor. It, in turn, would appoint the "director of education," who would fill the place now held by the superintendent of public instruction. This scheme would provide for unified control.

The board of education would consist of 10 members, two of whom would leave office on March 1 of each year. This plan would not make it possible for any one governor to control a board of education unless he were elected for a second term, it is pointed out by those sponsoring the amendment. The scheme thus would take education out of politics, it is contended. The board of education appointments would have to receive assent by two-thirds of the senate, which is elected by the people.

The present system is dubbed archaic by those familiar with its operation and educators throughout the state are agreed that the amendment suggested would greatly improve the situation.

HOLD SERVICES FOR LOCAL MAN ON WEDNESDAY

Funeral services will be held in the Winbiger Mission Funeral home, at 10 a. m. tomorrow, for Lewis Hillyard, 85, who passed away Saturday in his home, 504 East Seventeenth street, following a heart attack while down town on business. Services will be conducted by Miss Clara Granvill, pastor of the Four Square Gospel church. Services at the grave will be under the auspices of the G. A. R.

Mr. Hillyard was the father of County Surveyor Warren K. Hillyard, and besides the son he is survived by his widow, two daughters, Mrs. Della Kennedy, of Long Beach, and Mrs. Vilda Robertson, of Escondido, and another son, William F. Hillyard, of Escondido.

Mr. Hillyard enlisted for the Civil war at Burlington Iowa, August 19, 1862, as a member of Co. D, 25th Iowa infantry. He participated in engagements at Chattanooga, Look-out Mountain and Missionary Ridge, and also in all the battles on Sherman's march to the sea. IMPROVEMENTS ARE URGED FOR CITY CAMP SITE

The city council last night set a new record, it is believed, the record having to do with the brevity of the meeting. The body was in session less than an hour and handled but a small amount of business.

A good portion of the hour was devoted to an informal discussion of the city's camp site, at Forest Home. City Manager W. G. Knox told the councilmen that many Santa Ana residents during the summer avail themselves of the free camp sites and suggested that further improvements be made for the accommodation of increased numbers next season. Clearing of space for camp sites was the principal recommendation.

Request of Marie Norton, Theo. Lacy and L. M. Phillips for rezoning of West First street so as to place the street between Broadway and Birch in the business zone was referred to the planning commission.

The Church of Christ was granted permission to make additions and to remodel its edifice at the corner of Walnut and Broadway. No protests were filed against the proposed improvement.

A petition for a street lamp on Baker street, between Sixth and Eighth, was referred to the city manager.

An appropriation of $25 was made for the Sunday school convention, to be held here October 31 to November 2, inclusive.

Sam Brown was given permission to operate a junk yard at 1900 West First street, on condition that he follow construction plans submitted to the council.

The city manager was directed to write the Richfield Oil company a letter of appreciation for its courtesy in sending its big plane here to take the council members to the convention of the League of California Municipalities, in San Bernardino, last Tuesday.

some years following his discharge from the army at Rock Island, Ill., on June 12, 1865. He came to Orange county in 1890 from Kansas settling at Orange on a ranch which he sold in 1910 and moved to Santa Ana.

The WOMAN'S DAY-ALINE JUMPER

Miss Gail Laughlin, member of the National Women's Party, has this to remark:

"Most of the discriminations against women are an inheritance from bygone ages. In addition to these survivals of medieval prejudice and injustice, in nearly every state laws have been passed in recent years which restrict the economic freedom of women and which place restrictions upon women in business and in industry, which do not apply to their male competitors."

Miss Laughlin refers, of course, to a limitation on the number of hours which a woman may work in certain industries and, in certain states, the fact that she may not stand more than so many hours a day.

But even the N. W. P. will have a hard time convincing the world, even if they can convince themselves that there are no fundamental differences between men and women which alter cases a bit.

Aside from my quarrel with them on the score of removing protective legislation, the N. W. P. does have a very good case on some other scores. Such as their data which proves that in many states a father is sole guardian of his child and may even give it away without the mother's consent; that a wife's earnings belong to her husband in some states; in others, that even though not living with her husband, she may not sign a contract nor enter business without his consent, and that the country over she may do the same work for much less pay.

In calling upon Herbert Hoover recently to urge him to support their program, the N. W. P. women produced a Mrs. Mary Murray, a ticket agent on the Brooklyn, Manhattan transit. Mrs. Murray said:

"The proof that laws regulating women in industry are not a protection and are not wanted by working women is shown by the fact that constantly increasing numbers of industrial women are working to secure exemption from such legislation."

"I speak from my own experience. Thousands of us women lost our jobs when the no night work law for women was passed in New York. These laws, which were intended to protect us, took away our jobs and forced women into harder work such as scrubbing floors where pay was less and the competition greater. We women railroad employees worked together for exemption from these restrictions and finally succeeded in having a law passed cancelling all hour limitations for women ticket agents on railroads."

Same old story of so much to be said on both sides! However, employers are about sold on the protection of women idea these days. Why spoil everything that's been done only through a long and hard fight?

THE TINYMITES

STORY BY MAE COCHRAN—PICTURES BY ROSS

(READ THE STORY, THEN COLOR THE PICTURE)

The Tinymites looked on in gloe. Said Clowny, "What big folks are we compared to all these garden tots who grew out of the ground. The one thing I would like to know is how the cow man made them grow." And then the cow man said, "Be still. You mustn't make a sound."

"You'll frighten all those tots away. Just watch them, please, and let them play. You see they are getting exercise for all that they are worth. To run is one of their main joys. They never play with little boys, and if you go real near to them, they'll run back in the earth."

"To tell us that, you're very nice," said Coppy. "That is good advice. We will not spoil the wee tots' fun. We'd rather see them play. But we have cake that's like a bit to eat." "Oh, no," exclaimed the cow man. "You had best do as I say."

And then he added, "Well, boys, I am going to have to say good-bye. I don't know where I'm going, but I'll soon be bound for there. Giddap, there, cow. Come, show some speed, 'cause that's the very thing we need." The cow dashed off, and moored real loud, which gave the bunch a scare.

"Well, now that he is out of sight," said Clowny, "it will be all right to join the little ground folks. I am sure they will not mind. We'll join right in and have some fun. I'm certain no harm will be done." So Clowny started running with the others right behind.

"Hey, kids, we are full of cheer, and you will soon be glad we're here," yelled Coppy. Then the ground tots looked and all began to rave. One of them shouted, "Come, tots, run! Those Tinymites have spoiled our fun." Before the Tines reached them, they were heading for a cave.

Repeat: episodes of the mortgage menace and its ilk, occurring so often at the dinner table, had, he added, affected his health.

ROMAN COLMAN and VILMA BANKY IN "TWO LOVERS" A TROUBLE PRODUCTION From the novel "Two Lovers" by Bernard Shaw

YOUR CHILDREN

By Olive Roberts Barton

Children worry a good bit over the troubles of their parents. They worry more than grown-ups imagine and usually out of all proportion to the cause, because so often they cannot understand what it is all about.

A certain father had a habit of mentioning the mortgage upon all occasions.

"If you don't care about losing the house, I do," he would shout at his wife. He was going to see to it that they weren't "set out on the street."

Their little boy lived in mortal terror of the mortgage. He didn't know what it was, but once he had caught some words, something it seemed was going to be "eaten up." How was he to know that it was only a business term and referred to interest.

Usually the unpleasant subject of the mortgage and "losing the house" and "being set out on the street," was brought up at meal-time, and he would be seized with a sudden loss of appetite.

His parents never dreamed of his terrible or his fantastic idea of the terrible wild animal—what else could a mortgage be?—or of the way he had of picturing their house floating off on a wide rushing river like houses did in the movies. How else indeed could one "lose" a house?

As for them being "set" out on the street, he took it, of course, literally.

Would they be allowed to sit peacefully on the sidewalk or would they be placed perilously between rushing automobiles and street cars to their "sitting out"?

This little boy grew to a man before he could quite shake off the terror of that vision.

He mentioned it in a speech at a parent-teachers' meeting, and warned other parents about the seriousness of discussing their affairs before children.

"One can never tell what monstrous pictures a child's imagination may conjure up," he declared. "The most innocent things often spell terror."

Repeated episodes of the mortgage menace and its ilk, occurring so often at the dinner table, had, he added, affected his health.

EAT THE THEATER

WEST END

Throughout the history of the West men have gone forth to conquer the stallion leaders of wild horse bands, until at last the supreme animal of them all has been brought to the screen in the person of Rex, King of Wild Horses. If you are interested in superb horsemanship do not miss "Guardians of the Wild," the latest wild horse picture to be released by Universal, which is now at the West End theater.

Seldom have so many thrills been packed into one film. Rex, the star, has opened up his bag of tricks which only a wild horse knows and exhibits them all in his latest starring vehicle under the direction of the ace of Western directors, Henry MacRae.

In the cast are such well known screen players as Mae Busch, Doris Hill, Ward Crane, Thomas Haines, Cissy Fitzgerald, James A. Marcus, Leo White, Dale Fuller, William A. Carroll and Lucio Flamma. The story is by Travers Lane and was ably directed by Louis J. Gasnier.

WEST COAST-WALKER

Every now and then there floats to the surface of the public mind—if you may so carelessly estimate it as such—another great, solemn, significant, perplexing "Why. (It's often several whys) thus, why, oh why, oh why?"

"Why is Vilma Banky a Spaniard?" was a timely and peculiarly pertinent query when "Two Lovers" opened in New York and one which will be asked again when the film comes to the Walker theater beginning tomorrow. Superficially, it would seem that explaining why Samuel Goldwyn's blonde Hungarian star should be cast as "The Flower of Spain" would be as difficult as justifying the existence of white blackbirds. Yet there was considerable reason behind Samuel Goldwyn and Fred Niblo's selection of Miss Banky in the picturization of Baroness Orczy novel, "Leatherstocking," in which she appears as the niece of the historically famous Duke of Azar.

In directing the picture Fred gave the blonde matter a full-sized portion of thought,—but he gave Vilma no brunette wig. He wanted her to be characteristic of the Spanish without being merely typical,—neither a Carmen at a fiesta nor a demurely glowing creature introduced to love by way of balcony and discreet fan dropped to a waiting swain below. "Me-Gangster" will finish its run at the theater tonight.

YOST BROADWAY

Because of the great popularity of the J. F. McEvoy story of cabaret and stage life in New York, "Show Girl," and the fact that the heroine, Dixie Dugan, was peppy, sparkling, laughing Alice White to the life, First National decided to make its film version of the McEvoy story a special motion picture production and assigned Alfred Santell to direct it. The resulting film is now to be seen at the Yost Broadway theater, where it is pleasing large audiences nightly.

With Miss White on the screen, are shown several amusing comedy features and some excellent news reels, the latter including the long-anticipated Foreman and Gilbert Orange county news reel, which shows many interesting local "shots."

YOST SPURGEON

Song hits are among the featured attractions of "Happy Days" the new musical comedy coming to the Yost Spurgeon theater Sunday, afternoon and night. Leo Flanders, who supplied the melodies for the show has scored a sensational success with at least five of the numbers.

These are "Happy Days," the theme number of the show, sung by Buddy Wattles, who also sings "Tampa," the dance tune that is achieving much success. "Let's Pre-arrange," a lively love number and "When the Girls You Love Love You," the fox-trot, are sung by Don Carroll and Ruth Golden, while the fifth big song is "Listen and Your Heart Will Tell," which is predicted to sweep the country.

The sixteen Happy Girls furnish the dancing which was directed by George Cunningham of "No, No, Nanette," "Lady Be Good," and "Hit the Deck," fame.

Reserved seats will be on sale Thursday at the Yost Broadway.

CONDITIONS IN JAPAN SUBJECT OF SPEAKER

No Child Laborers
Japan may pride herself upon one matter, however—there are no child laborers in the spinning and textile factories as there is a minimum age limit of 14, which, in a country where girls mature early, is comparatively high. Tokio has few such industrial plants, but in Osaka, where there are many, conditions have improved materially in recent years and dormitory conditions, in which the night shift of girls left their beds only to have them occupied at once by members of the day shift, have been abolished and individual dormitories established. An average daily wage in these factories is 30 cents. Fifteen cents a day for food and 15 for dormitory leaves girls a day clear, and this usually is sent to needy parents as the daughter's contribution to the family expenses.

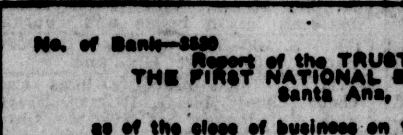

In telling of the adoption of western costumes by the Japanese business girl, and the abolishing of the picturesque native dress, the speaker declared that their greatest trouble came from the American-made motion picture films, which gave the girls their ideas of smart garments. Results are extremely laughable except for one thing and that is that it is a serious blunder which the progressive young people are making, and Miss Ansel voiced a wish that the American producer might be made aware of the weight carried by his pictures and consider the messages they carry to far corners of the world.

Kissing is Adopted
Kissing, for instance, hitherto unknown in Japan, is being adopted by the young people to the detriment of their morals, according to the speaker, who explained that they considered it to be absolutely right, since that was the way things were done in America.

The business session conducted at the luncheon by the president, Mrs. John A. Tessmann, was filled with plans for the month's social

Fire Drill

Last week Lathrop was the scene of a very successful fire drill conducted by the Lathrop fire committee under the direction of Miss Nora Reid and witnessed by the Santa Ana fire chief. The building was emptied promptly and quietly and the entire drill was evidence of the efficiency of the fire committee and the co-operation of the students. This week, which is National Fire Prevention week, finds Lathrop with fire posters in every room and each department working to drive home the necessity for fire prevention.

English classes are writing brief essays, poems, stories and personal experiences on the subject of fire prevention and social studies classes are emphasizing this subject in various ways in the classroom.

Clubs Meet

First meeting of school clubs were held Friday. The time was spent in organizing and outlining the activities to be pursued in the various clubs. Such clubs as the Kodak club, Dramatic club and Girl Reserves proved to be so popular that reorganization was necessary in some cases.

The Dramatic club held an election of officers, with the result that Charlie Manders held to be the club's first president and Frankie Thompson, secretary-treasurer. At the next meeting the club plans to start the reading of "Our Aunt from California" which may be produced later in the year.

Girl Reserves

With the Girl Reserve membership reaching 125 Lathrop hopes to put over a big year's work in this activity. Miss Cartwright, the Girl Reserve secretary of the Y. W. C. A. talked to the girls at the first meeting. She is planning to hold regular office hours at Lathrop in order to assist the girls in carrying out their programs. Miss Cartwright especially stressed as the purpose of these meetings, the qualities of community spirit and service.

Banking day at Lathrop has been changed from Wednesday to Tuesday of each week. So the Lathrop deposits have not reached the desired number, but it is hoped that the record will rise since there has been a steady increase in deposits since the beginning of the year. It should be understood that a student already holding an account with a Santa Ana bank may transfer that account without loss of interest.

A great deal of interest has been shown at Lathrop in urging all qualified voters to Register at the coming election. Blanks asking parents to "Vote as they please, but register now" were sent out last week.

Classroom activities show that work has not been neglected in the midst of all this outside activities at Lathrop. Miss Pearl Nicholson's history and geography classes enjoyed a reading day last Monday. Books and magazines on historical and geographical subjects were placed around the room and the students were allowed to make their choice of reading material for the period. About 25 books were checked out during the day for outside reading.

Miss Mignonne Swales' low 7 English classes have produced some clever booklets on the "Legend of Sleepy Hollow" which they have been studying recently.

The General Language classes under Miss Bernice Hart are increasing in number each semester. At present there is a total of about 75 students. It affords an opportunity to try out several languages before deciding definitely which language each student is best fitted to study. The low eighth students are studying Latin this quarter and the high eighth classes, Spanish.

Musie

Instructors of music in the junior and senior high schools and junior college were recently entertained at dinner by Mrs. Frances Hunt Beeson, supervisor of music of the Santa Ana schools. Following the dinner a meeting was held to discuss problems of current musical interest. The guests from Lathrop were Miss Zelman, Miss Cornell, Miss Gordon and Miss Jones.

The Unalutka Camp Fire girls of Lathrop enjoyed a trip into Silverado canyon and to the Orange County park camp grounds. Hiking and cooking and sleeping outdoors made the girls feel that they were real campers. Mary Eudaly, Alline Buck, Ruth Dunn, Sarah Boyle, Catherine Cartwright, Merlene Julien, Gloria Hunt, Lois Becker, Virginia Sawdye, Alice Boyd, Miss Jones and Miss Collins made the trip.

WATER RENOVATION

There has been from time to time considerable agitation over the question of the re-use of the sewage water from the cities of Orange county. Recently the United States Department of Public Health Service, in collaboration with several other engineers, has been conducting an experiment in Grand Canyon National Park of the use of sewage water.

The report in part says, "The experience at the canyon has proved that it is possible to produce continuously a sewage effluent of the same quality as drinking water in so far as bacteriological results are concerned and of better quality than the original water for generating steam."

"It is believed that where there is a scarcity of water, particularly in the West and Southwest, it will be economical and practicable to reclaim sewage for industrial purposes, and for irrigating any kind of crops without danger of contaminating ground water or the products grown . . . .

"The costs of operation of treatment plants will depend on the volume of sewage treated and the prices for labor and materials and for electrical current where the activated sludge process is used."

Our own engineers, both city and county, have had this in mind for some time, as the sewage from eight cities now finally finds its way to the same line, and more of them can join the drainage system.

This water will undoubtedly finally be reused in the southern section of the country. While various cities have re-used water for industrial purposes, notably New York, yet an experiment for the specific purposes of irrigation has been greatly needed, and this is a complete vindication of the theory. It will mean much to Orange county and many other arid districts when we are able to re-use the vast quantity that is necessary for our city population.

Al Capone was shot in the leg when a gun fell out of his pocket while playing golf, according to press dispatches. Moral: the Chicago merchants should chip in for golf clubs for all the racketeers.

PROPOSITION NO. 3 AGAIN

Proposition number 3 on the November ballot has already been discussed at some length but the arguments in favor of the measure which was unanimously endorsed at the recent special session of the legislature were not exhausted.

If the people endorse this amendment which provides for a tax of four per cent on the income of banks, a crisis in state finances will have been passed successfully. The illegality of the present bank tax plan leaves hanging in the air the taxes paid for the past two years; and if the proposal to establish this new method shall be defeated, it will be more than two years hence when another proposal can be enacted.

The banks will escape taxation for four or five years and the state will lose the tax money, approximating twenty-two millions of dollars. As this is just about the surplus carried in the state treasury, if the proposed amendment shall be defeated, the treasury will be in the same condition as Old Mother Hubbard's historic cupboard.

Manifestly this cannot be. The state must pay its bills. If the banks are freed from their taxes, other properties will have to meet the deficit. Herein lies the danger to the general taxpayer. The one way open to meet a deficit in state revenues is by the levying of an ad valorem tax on all the property of the state.

A "Yes" vote on No. 3 means that the banks will pay—and they are willing to because they consider the plan a fair one. A "No" vote will mean that the people will pay.

Other domestic corporations will pay the same tax as the banks, under this amendment. This is essential under California law. The corporations which will share heavily in this plan are the finance companies, most of them owned by the banks, which have been escaping taxation in large measure in the past.

RATHER LATE

It is now about ten years since the Great War ended. And we note that Distinguished Service Crosses are still being handed out by the War Department for meritorious service during the war. There is a good deal of inconsistency and question about the whole business. Why is this recognition of high service so belated? Why has it required ten long years to discover this high service and this reputed valor? The whole business appears somewhat strange. Were it an exceptional case of recognition it might be explicable. But when these decorations are given by the scores, we wonder what is back of it all.

To us it seems a little cheapening of this great honor bestowed upon men whose brave deeds in war and battle called out the admiration of their country and mankind. It may be alright, but it looks as if there might be some political maneuvering which has made it possible to get these decorations at this late day. We hold strongly to the belief that if such a decoration as that which should mark the real heroes of a war are to be bestowed ten years after the war ended, the reasons for it should be so manifestly evident that no cheapening of the honor could possibly follow. That is nothing more than just to those brave and helpful spirits who won them in the heat of conflict or in some insidious work while the war was on.

The suspicion now exists, and that suspicion will not down, that they who are receiving these signal marks of bravery and honor at this late day are receiving them because of some political pull or because they have a friend in the War Department who has access to the powers that be. This is very unfortunate. It is a reflection upon the man who receives such a decoration, and it is unjust to those brave spirits who ten years ago were the heroes of war and achievement.

SO LIVE

An element of uncertainty will be injected into business and social life with the increasing use of air service. It means quicker transit for the traveler but some uncertainty about just how quick. Now this dirigible might arrive tonight, tomorrow morning, or tomorrow afternoon. That is a long time to keep the roast hot in the oven and the biscuits in their best condition or the breakfast bacon on the back of the stove. In fact the first three hours of waiting for the guests arriving by air it would be the roast and hot bread and then those edibles would be put aside in favor of the muffins and tea kettle. But then, in our speculating we are forgetting that the really modern people, and certainly those who travel by air are in that class, don't do much eating in homes.

Then again there are the possibilities of surprise visits. When mothers-in-law take to traveling around in airplanes what then? But the status of mothers-in-law, too, has changed in the last ten years. They have been rising in popular favor until we may expect to have them mentioned frequently as co-respondents in divorce cases.

Speculation on these surprise visits is intriguing and their realization may become harrowing. The boss can get out to his field workers and branch offices too quickly and easily, he won't stay put. Fathers and mothers can surprise their kids at school. Today Dad and Mother are two states away and tomorrow they are walking right in the door of the college dormitory to be welcomed!

The old hymn will be paraphrased into "Where are my wandering mentors tonight?" The only way to save situations will be to so live that when the visits come we will be ready and in so living the world will in every way, every day become better and better.

Hens and Peacocks
Imperial Valley Press

At first we thought it a misprint, so we read it again, to make sure we were correct. Two thousand dollars for a pair of stockings.

There was a picture of a woman, her nether limbs encased in a pair of the two thousand dollar beauties. The foot-note advised that the "clocking" in the stockings were of platinum, which accounted for the high price. It also advised that there were buyers for the stockings, even at the price quoted. We read of the follies and extravagances of Rome, which led ultimately to its downfall, and wonder what they were. Probably silk stockings at two thousand dollars a pair. Again, we hear some so-called radical addressing the laboring class, about their wrongs, and in our smugness we wonder what their wrongs can be.

Possibly one of them is the knowledge that there is a wife and several children at home who must be denied many of the necessities of life at the same time that some women are adorning themselves with stockings at two thousand dollars a pair. It is enough to make any honest man want to blow off steam.

This of course is a serious view of it, and one that few of us care to take. The majority can rest content with the thought that persons crazy enough to pay two thousand dollars for a pair of stockings are not worth thinking about, even though they have the wealth of John J. Croesus himself.

The peacock is a gorgeous looking individual but he is not to be compared with the homely barnyard hen for usefulness, and it is safe to say he does not get half as much fun out of life strutting around displaying himself, as the hen does scratching for worms. And even when dead a hen makes a good meal while a peacock goes on the ash-heap. If there is any poultry "hereafter," a hen is undoubtedly a saint while a peacock shovels coal for eternity.

The wearer of two thousand dollars a pair stockings belongs in the same category as the peacock.

Making Fuel Out of Water a New Absurdity
Sacramento Bee

It is generally well to treat signs and wonders, to say nothing of prophecies, with a healthy skepticism.

Dr. Samuel Johnson was once presented to a man who claimed he was able to pass from one room to another by some miraculous means.

Under the doctor's vigilant eye the miracle worker was tied hand and foot and left alone in a room. A little later he appeared, still tied, in another room.

Whereupon the great lexicographer snorted:

"Sir, when I see a man unable to walk from one room to another thus appear in the other, it is plain to me how he got there; he was carried!"

Similarly, one imagines, would the good doctor have snorted over the recent announcement of a Brazilian scientist that he had discovered a method of using water for fuel, and thus doing away with coal and oil.

He would have said:

"Sir, water will neither burn nor explode."

That would have settled the question for him, and in spite of the fact that science really does some very strange things nowadays, it would probably have settled it right.

At all events, don't begin filling your gasoline tank out of the water tap just yet.

Those We Admit Ought to Come In
With a Smile
San Francisco Chronicle

The Commissioner-General of Immigration has put the final touches on the job of abolishing the palpable hardship of barring from this country the wives and minor children of aliens lawfully admitted for permanent residence. Congress at its last session amended the act so as to prevent the injustice of breaking up families. But even since the law was broadened wives and children coming to this country have been held up at the immigration stations while the right of the father to be here was investigated.

Delay under the circumstances often proved to be a very cruel welcome to the newcomers seeking home and citizenship in the land of promise. The new order of the commissioner makes it possible for the necessary proofs to be sent to the American consul at the point of departure, and he gives the happy family a pass through the lines.

It is a much better way. It is well worth while to make the arrival of those whom we admit a joyous affair rather than a fight with red tape. They will be more valuable additions for coming in with flying colors rather than with the feeling that they are grudgingly admitted.

POLITICS IN THE HOME

Once weary of tedious and wearing cares
And longing for relaxation,
I listened at night to the jazz time airs
Sent out by my favorite station.

And as I lolled on the soft divan
While number succeeded number,
A rested, refreshed and contented man
I sunk into peaceful slumber.

But now when I come from my toil of nights
In a shattered and frayed condition
I hear alone of the wrongs and rights
Or the folly of prohibition.

Long distance speakers with bellows lungs
Discourse for full many an hour
Devoting their muscular tireless tongues
To the issues of water power.

And afraid that I may not know how to vote
When election day comes round,
I listen while every earnest throat
Pours forth its burden of sound.

And when I recline on my couch at night
An echo of eloquence swarms
With the roar and din of the campaign fight
Through my troubled uneasy dreams.

I know that we all should be patriots
And to know what the issues are
But dishing up words in ten million lots
Is going a bit too far.

Perhaps I may still have a bit to learn
Of the merits of laws and men,
But at night my radio off I'll turn
Till the jazz comes back again.

BRIAND

We commonly speak of the Kellogg treaty for the outlawry of war. It should be called the Briand Treaty. Mr. Kellogg says:

"The anti-war treaty, which as I told you before had its origin in the suggestions of M. Briand a year ago, is simple and straightforward. That grand conception of the French Foreign Secretary had its inspiration in the desire of all people to avoid another great cataclysm of war."

Mr. Harold Callender, in a recent article, gives us an interview with Mr. Briand himself and tells us what the originator of the idea thinks of it.

"He describes the French statesman in his country home as a little man, with shaggy moustache, long wisps of hair sticking out from under his soft hat, dressed in the rough garb of a fisherman near an isolated hamlet in Normandy."

"If regard this multilateral treaty as a new contribution to the conception of peace."

"The foundation of the League of Nations was a striking manifestation of the will to peace."

"Now is added another act on a different plane—this declaration of the outlawry of war as an instrument of national policy. It should operate in favor of efforts toward the limitation of armaments."

"If people will take this treaty seriously no government will dare to embark on a war of aggression. The old talk about keeping the powder dry will become otiose."

"Everywhere every nation had a legal right to resort to force. Now the traditional right to wage war will be abandoned by the nations signing the new treaty."

"M. Briand has great confidence in peace as such and in the force of informed public opinion."

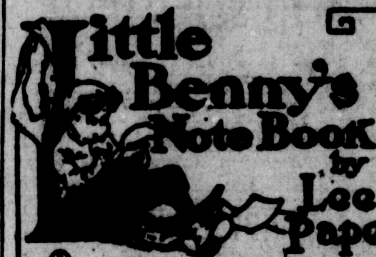

"I am one of those who believe that when you want something you must not be afraid to talk about it. He who desires peace should speak of peace more often than of war."

"History has amply demonstrated the futility of the motto, 'In time of peace prepare for war.'"

"A new institution has been born; it is the first tribunal of peace among the peoples."

"This multilateral compact is a new obstacle to the frightful calamity of war, and this is why I am so highly pleased by its signing."

"Kellogg says: 'We know that the people of the world are tired of international lawlessness and that they desire peace. This is a most important step toward the realization of the dream of mankind.'"

Pop was smoking to himself and ma sed, Willyum, if you take my advice you'll never buy anything just because it's cheap.

My own advice will keep me
strate on that, thanks, pop sed.

Meaning he wouldn't anyway,
and ma sed, After all its quality that counts in this life, not also or quantity.

You never sed a truer word, pop sed. I'd rather have my few remaining hairs just as they are, soft and silky, than a whole head-ful of wiry bristles such as some men are cursed with, he sed.

Well, yee of course, I'd rather have you a little funny looking than positively ridiculous looking, ma sed. Wat I was thinking of,
I was thinking of something I hadt downtown today in Hookbinders novelty department, it was one of those big ornaments, I never saw them for less than 6 dollars so when I saw these at Hookbinders at 3 dollars and 66 cents I knew my natural suspicious-ness arose immediately. I didn't see how they could be so cheap and still be good, but as fate would have it I happened to be in a very lenient mood and the salesgirl assured me that the color was guaranteed to be fast, so I wore it home and there happened to be a sprinkle of rain and low and behold every place where a drop of water touched made a spot on the flower, so if that's fast color I'd like to know wat looses color is, ma sed. It just bears out my contention that a so called inexpensive thing may turn out to be the most expensive in the end, she sed.

But yee gods, cant you take it back? pop sed. Didnt they give you a bill of lading or whatever they call it? he sed.

You mean a sales slip, ma sed.
Yes, I got a sales slip and of course Hookbinders are really very honest about taking things back when they make false promises, but after all, Willyum, it was so re-doulously cheap! I think I'll just keep it, she sed.

Ill see you later, pop sed. And he got in back of the sporting page and stayed there.

for modelling. Here's our place Tom, and here, Sally, pass this trayful along your row," and the game is on. Don't talk the idea to death.

This preparation idea, this talking it over, raking up all the past, present and future is the cause of a great deal of friction in school and in the family. Let the teacher try giving the class a brief pointed lesson any subject, dwelling on the point she wishes to keep in memory, discarding all other things and then give the diffuse lesson to the same class and see what the results are in both cases.

Little children, elementary school children, at least through the fourth year, and perhaps the sixth, cannot afford these talky lessons. The teacher who corrects history papers and learns that Columbus discovered America sailing under the Dutch flag, making a settlement for Catholics for Queen Elizabeth who ordered him beheaded and sent home in chains, will know by that sign that there was too broad a field for the history lesson. Only when the pupil has stored a basic fund of accurate knowledge can he be called upon to bring forward his experiences to help him illumine the new situation. For the beginner, one point at a time; short, sharp lessons, well illustrated.

When at home the child is told to do something and mother explains why, and father declares that when he was his-age he did thus and so, and Uncle Ben describes his experiences and tries to push them over on his long suffering, nephew, and sister cuddles in with the pleasant statement that the boy across the way does everything of the kind just as easy—when the whole family joins in an argument as to why and wherefore, the confused and irritated child rebels. Less talking all around will bring better results.

Children, we're going to have a lovely lesson. Now I want you to think. What is it we get out of the ground? Now think!
Out-of-the-ground. What is it? and she patted the lump of clay on the stand beside her.

The children, their minds set on the joy of mud pies kept their eyes and their thoughts on the cake of clay. All but Budge. The slowest dullest child in the room, according to the teacher's idea.
He arose to his feet, waved his hand in a slow semicircle and uttered a long drawn out—
"W-r-r-um."

The best way to present an idea to a child is to present it. Let him have it sharply, without any confusing fringes. "This is clay, a kind of soil
